

Seeks Another Title

Maurice Reidy, 15-year-old Regis high school tennis star who appears to have a monopoly on Denver's junior titles, meets Irwin Hoffman for the junior singles championship of the Public Parks tennis tournament at City park Sunday. Reidy hopes to repeat his win over Hoffman in the finale of the Denver Country club's junior tourney earlier in the current campaign.

Hoffman Is Boys Champ In Net Meet

Irwin Hoffman was extended before defeating Hugh Hearn, 7-5, 6-2, 3-6, 6-1, yesterday for the boys' junior singles championship in the Junior Tennis tournament at Denver Tennis Club.

In the feature match today, Carney Rydstrom will battle Sidney Brock for the girls' junior title starting at 1 p. m.

Wins Title

Irwin Hoffman, winner of the junior singles title at the Denver Tennis club earlier this week, is among those competing in the Intermountain tennis championships at Salt Lake City beginning Sunday. The 18-year-old Denver star left Saturday with a large group of local netters for the annual tourney.

Net Diadem To Hoffman

Irwin Hoffman annexed his first title of the year Thursday when he won the Center junior singles championship at the Denver Tennis club. Hoffman was forced to four sets before edging his doubles partner, Hugh Hearn, 7-5, 6-2, 3-6, 6-1, to cop the 18 and under boys' singles crown.

A full schedule of action was slated for the club courts Friday afternoon, with play scheduled in seven divisions featuring the girls' 15 and under singles title match between Carney Rydstrom and Sidney Brock set for 1 p. m.
