THE RATIONALIZATION OF A MISUNDERSTANDING

Every sinecure has its flaw,
Even Eden had one law:

And so the worlds always taught
Nothings perfect thats been wrought.

Our Paradise of friendship, too.
Does, in rather strict review

Follow Mother Natures stress
With its own eclipse of flawlessness.

(The garden of Eden, (Paradise) refers to the law imposed upon Adam and Eve, their only law.

A sinecure is a job usually given out as a favor. This job would entail a minimum of work, but that minimum is this 'o'perfect job's flaw.
