

Hoffman named net pro at new Heather Ridge CC

Irwin Hoffman has been named head tennis professional and Scott Zuelke teaching professional at the new Heather Ridge Country Club.

The country club and apartment complex is located at 13621 East Iliff Ave.

Hoffman, a varsity player at the University of Denver and later a member of the Far East Air Force tennis team, has been a leader in junior programs in the metropolitan Denver area over the the past 14 years.

He has been a teacher in the Denver public schools during this time and was head coach of the George Washington prep tennis team.

Hoffman is currently on the Board of Trustees of the Youth Tennis Foundation, an organization responsible for bringing the sport to youngsters who could not otherwise play tennis.

Irwin Hoffman